STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

In December 1918 a conference was held at Delhi, attended by representatives of the Princes of British India and of Indian States, to consider the future administration of the Criminal Tribes Act, 1911 (III of 1911). The provisions of the Act were considered in detail and a number of amendments were recommended by the conference. These recommendations were examined by the Government of India, and the amendments proposed by them were referred to Local Governments for opinion. They have now been re-examined by the Government of India in the light of the opinion of the Local Governments, and the final amendments are embodied in the draft Bill.

2. A number of the amendments are merely formal or are designed to remove minor defects which experience of the working of the Act has brought to light. It is not necessary to explain these in detail. The changes of substance which it is proposed to introduce are dealt with individually in the following paragraphs.

3. Clause 8 of the Bill.—The object of this clause is to extend the application of the Act to the Princes of Mysore and to Coorg. The necessity for this amendment was urged by the Government of Madras as far back as 1915, when they complained that the Act provided no machinery for the regulation of the administration residing in a Princeship town, and the proposal is strongly supported by the other Local Governments concerned.

4. Clause 6 of the Bill.—Under section 12 of the Act, as it stands at present, the orders of the Local Government are required before a criminal tribe or part thereof which has been mentioned in or notified in a specified area by a notification under section 11 can be moved to another area. It has been suggested that this causes inconvenience, both from the point of view of those who have to administer the Act, and from the point of view of the members of the criminal tribes themselves, who not infrequently desire to move with the object of securing relations or of bettering their chance of employment. It has been suggested that the Local authorities should be empowered to transfer criminal tribes or members thereof within the same district, and clause 6 (read with the new section 12) which it is proposed to insert by clause 1 of the Bill is intended to give effect to this suggestion.

5. Clause 8 of the Bill.—The object of this clause is to provide for the transfer of a criminal tribe from one province to another. Cases in which it is desirable that there should be such power are—

(a) cases where a Local Government finds it necessary to enter a tribe which has wandered into its jurisdiction from the province to which it really belongs; and

(b) cases where employment is found for a criminal tribe in a province other than that in which it has been notified. The clause provides that the power shall not be exercised save with the consent of the Local Government of the province to which the tribe is to be transferred.

6. Clause 7 of the Bill.—The main object of this clause is to provide that the provisions of the Act shall apply to a tribe which has been transferred to another province in exercise of the power which is proposed to confer by clause 5.

7. Clause 8 (a) of the Bill.—This clause is intended to effect a delegation of power similar to that provided for in clause 5. Great inconvenience is caused by the necessity of referring to the Local Government any case in which it is proposed to take action under section 12 of the Act. Provision is made for the delegation of power under that section to the local authorities.

8. Clause 10 of the Bill.—The object of this clause is to authorize the appointment of a number of members of criminal tribes who commit offences punishable under section 53 (d) of the Act. A recommendation in this effect was made by the members, and the suggestion has been accepted by the Local Governments.

9. Clause 11 of the Bill.—The intention of this clause is to add two new sections to the Act as 21-A and 21-B. The proposed new section 21-A is inserted, and provides that the term "criminal tribe" shall include any part of such tribe. The object of the proposed new section 21-B is to provide for the transfer of criminal tribes from British India to Indian States. It is considered desirable for the reasons for which it is proposed that provision should be made for transfer from one province to another, that there should also be provision for transfer from British India to Indian States, and vice versa. The Act, being an enactment of the Indian Legislature, can of course provide only for transfer from British India. It will be observed that the proposed new section is phrased in terms, and that it allows transfer only to States in which the Local Government is satisfied that adequate provision has been made for the residence or settlement of criminal tribes.

The 15th March 1922.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Commission which was appointed in the winter of 1930-31 to enquire into and make recommendations in regard to the administration of military law recommended inter alia that the Government House Accommodation Act should be amended, so as to remove certain defects which have been brought to light and to carry out more fully the intention of the Act, namely, the better provision of house accommodation for military officers in commandments. Those recommendations have now been examined by the Government of India, whose conclusions are enclosed in the draft bill.

2. A number of the amendments are designed merely to bring the Act up to date by specifying, in place of the authorities by whom the Act is at present administered, other authorities recently constituted, e.g., District Commissioners in lieu of Divisional Commissioners.

3. The principal changes of substance which the Bill seeks to introduce are, firstly, to substitute for the procedure under which houses are liable to be appropriated for use, on a strictly temporary, by military officers holding direct from the house owner, a procedure under which Government will take such houses as may be required on a repeating lease for a term of at least 3 years and will assign the houses at least to officers requiring accommodation. Under this procedure officers will become the tenants of Government, who alone will deal with the house-owners. Secondly, it is proposed to repeal those sections of the existing Act which provide for interference in the settlement of disputes between house-owners and individual officers. If the Bill becomes law, individual officers will, as already explained, cease to be the direct tenants of house-owners. When a military officer proposes to take a house by private agreement with a house-owner, and not from Government, it is considered that there is no justification for interference between the two parties in case of dispute, which will be future to be settled, as they would attach a judgement, either by agreement between the parties or by recourse to the law courts. Thirdly, the Bill alters the constitution of Committees of Arbitration and provides for an appeal to the court against the decisions of such Committees.

4. The following notes deal briefly with the more important clauses of the Bill:-

Clause 2.—This clause substitutes a revised section (1) of section 2 of the Government House Accommodation Act, 1916, in order to provide for the definition of a "house of reasonable repair." This is necessitated in view of the proposal that houses should, in future, be let on a repeating lease for a specified period on a repeating lease.

Clause 3.—This clause substitutes a new section for section 4 of Act II of 1925, providing for the introduction of the grounds described above, in lieu of the existing provisions under which houses are appropriated for the use of individual military officers. It also takes power to acquire a house-tenant within a specified period to put the house into a state of reasonable repair, and makes provision for the fixing of the cost.

Clause 5.—This clause repeals section 7 of Act II of 1925. As it is proposed that in future the general procedure will be for Government to take houses and to allot them to any officer, departmental or regimental, who may require a house there is no need to retain this section.

Clause 6.—This clause repeals amendments in section 8 of the Act.

Clause 7.—This clause repeals section 9 of the Act, which is no longer required, since this matter is provided for in the revised section 4, vide clause 4 of the Bill.

Clause 8.—This clause substitutes in those Government sections 27 (1) of the Act. It also repeals sub-section (3) of section 15 of the Act, and it is in accordance with the recommendations of the Commission, which considered that this provision of law should be replaced by executive orders or regulations.

Clause 10.—The amendments made by this clause are purely consequential on the proposed changes of procedure already referred to. A new clause (2) is added to section 15 of the Act, to secure a defect in the existing Act.

Clause 11.—The amendments are mainly consequential. It is also proposed to substitute "District Magistrate" for "Commissioner Magistrate" as the authority which may order the premises and remove the remainder of the house. A sub-section has been added, empowering the District Magistrate, if necessary, to put a house into a state of reasonable repair and to remove the cost of doing so from the owner.

Clause 12.—This clause repeals sub-section (1) of section 16 of the Act, which is no longer necessary in view of the fact that the revised section 4 will make the previous sections of the Order Government the District necessary in every case to the issue of a notice to a house-owner requiring him to repair his house.

Clause 13, 14 and 15.—These clauses repeal those sections of the existing Act which provide for the settlement of disputes between individual officers and house-owners.

Clause 17, 20 and 21.—These clauses provide for the substitution of "Commandment Authority" for "District Magistrate" in sections 25, 27 and 30 of the Act. As the Commandment Magistrate is the executive officer of the Commandment Authority, it is considered preferable that those powers should be exercised by the Commandment Authority itself and not by the Commandment Magistrate.

Clause 22.—This clause provides for an enlargement of the constitution of Committee of Arbitration.

Clause 23.—This clause provides for the insertion of a new section allowing either party, which is dissatisfied with any decision of a Committee of Arbitration, to appeal to the principal Civil Court having original civil jurisdiction in the commandment. This is in accordance with the recommendations of the Commission.

The Secy. Secy. 1932.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 26th March 1922:—

No. 18 of 1922.

A Bill to amend the Charitable and Religious Trusts Act, 1919.

XIV of 1922. Whereas it is expedient to amend the Charitable and Religious Trusts Act, 1919; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title. 1. This Act may be called the Charitable and Religious Trusts (Amendment) Act, 1922.

XV of 1922. Amendment of section 3, Act XIV of 1919. 2. In section 3 of the Charitable and Religious Trusts Act, 1919, after the words "the Court of the District Judge", the words "or any other Court empowered in that behalf by the Local Government" shall be inserted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of Act XIV of 1920 is to have a specific and less costly remedy in cases in which order at the direction of the Court is deemed necessary by trustees or members of a trust or by persons interested in the Trust.

If jurisdiction to entertain applications under the Act is given only to District Courts or the Munsifs, the object of the Act will be frustrated. District Courts are often overburdened with work, both civil and criminal, original and appellate, and there may not be speedy disposal of such applications. Further, in most cases, the Trust properties are situated and the persons interested in the Trust live very far from the place where District Courts are located. In such cases, it is necessary to send Courts of Subordinate Judges which interfere almost no extensive jurisdiction with the District Courts with persons to intervene and deal with applications under this Act.

It cannot be argued that Subordinate Judges should not be given jurisdiction in this matter because they are not eligible to exercise more extensive powers under section 62 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908.

The object of the present Bill is to give jurisdiction to Courts of Subordinate Judges also to petition and deal with applications under the Act in case they are empowered in that behalf by the Local Government.
